

Miroslav Pomichal, Peasants' Revolt 2, oil on canvas, 100 x 85cm, 2022

Miroslav Pomichal, Rachel Mercer, Archie Franks: BREADANDGAMES Until 12 January 2023 at The Bindery, 53 Hatton Garden, London, EC1N 8HN.

We are pleased to announce our second exhibition at new art space, The Bindery, featuring works by three progressive contemporary painters. These works are seemingly representational and depict bucolic subjects: cricket, sunlit crops and people at leisure in parks, but as the title 'Bread And Games' suggests – derived from the French to mean a distraction from problems or grievances – something darker lies behind them. This may be apparent in a selection of the painting's titles, such as 'Strange Weather' or 'Peasants' Revolt'.

"These three artists together might be reckoned to reverse Larkin's movement: the beauty of nature and the freedom of play are on the surface, and not without transformative moments. Yet there are troubling undercurrents: some darkness lies at the heart of the celebration." ~ Paul Carey-Kent Each artist is recipient of numerous awards and honours including the Jerwood Painting Fellowship (Archie Franks), The Mountridge Art Foundation Purchase Prize, Cello Factory, London (Morislav Pomichal) and the Hampstead Art Society Prize (Rachel Mercer). You can read the accompanying text online with a list of works and prices. The exhibition can be viewed in person at The Bindery, or as a #virtualexhibition.
